

Hollywood's Most

Twelve handsome, well-polished, virile specimens of the American male are to be found on this and the following two pages. These men, ranging in age from a bouncy 24 to an incredibly attractive 50 odd years, are undoubtedly the most wanted bachelors in their present-day home town, Hollywood.

They are wanted for dates, for social occasions, for public appearances, for money-making movies, for charity performances and, above all, for a life-time partnership on a highly emotional and personal basis—marriage.
